

LEVEL MATTERS

Did you know?

For security reasons, the SITRANS LR100 series PIN is provided on a sheet that can be stored securely after the PIN has been used. However, for those customers requiring that the PIN be attached to the radar sensor, it can now be lasered on production units.

Please choose option D73 when configuring any of the LR100 series models. The list price for this option is $69 USD as of the date of this publication.

Units in North American stock can not be lasered with the PIN since these units are considered post-production.

Please remember that the more secure method is to use the provided documentation with the PIN. If the customer loses it, Siemens Technical Support can retrieve it with the help of the unit's serial number.
